

Kung Hsing Plastic Machinery Co., Ltd.

»»» Monolayer and multilayer blown film lines, monofilament making machines, flat yarn making machines, plastic recycling machines, and washing lines

Ever since its establishment in 1972, Kung Hsing Plastic Machinery Co., Ltd. has been devoted to developing and producing a variety of plastic processing machines. With over 40 years of experience, the company has developed into a Taiwan-leading, world-caliber supplier in its line.

Kung Hsing currently runs two factories in Taiwan, one for making and assembling parts and the other for assembling, trial running, testing, and shipping the finished machines. Among its products are PP blown film machines, multi-layer co-extrusion high speed blown film lines, LD/LLDPE/HDPE super high speed blown film lines, PP/PE and nylon monofilament making machines, polyester zipper monofilament making machines, flat yarn making machines, turn-key solutions for cement and woven bags, plastic recycling machines, and washing lines. Most of these products are marketed under its own "K.S." brand in more than 150 countries.

The success of Kung Hsing's machines is based partly on a strong devotion to quality. To make sure its plastic processing machines have durability and performance that fully meet customers' demands and conform to CE Mark standards, the manufacturer uses only high-grade materials and state-of-the-art 3D design software to develop and produce high-precision parts. It also implements stringent quality control measures in accordance with international norms at its factories, which have passed ISO 9002 and ISO 9001 certification.

In addition to making full use of its abundant expertise in manufacturing and R&D, Kung Hsing systematically codes each of the machines it sells and has archived related technical documents for over 20 years, helping it to satisfy customers with timely maintenance and professional technical support services within the shortest possible time.
