Performance parts for motorcycles and engines

Taida Motor Part Co., Ltd., established in 1997, is a top-end supplier of performance parts and accessories for motorcycles and motorcycle engines, with its own TD brand.

The company, aware of the huge market potential of performance parts for motorcycle engines, decided to focus on the segment several years ago. To outdo competitors in the competitive market, the company has imported Cylinder Head machines and consistently upgraded know-how to sharpen manufacturing capability.
